

A photograph of a brick building with a central concrete entrance. The entrance is flanked by two tall, narrow concrete pillars. The brickwork is red, and the concrete is light-colored. The building is surrounded by snow, and the sky is overcast. The text "TOWN OF BETHLEHEM" is visible on the concrete pillars, and "WATER DISTRICT ONE" is written vertically on the central pillar. The date "September 23, 2009" is printed at the bottom of the image.
