INTRASTATE MUTUAL AID PROGRAM STANDARD OPERATING GUIDELINES

INTRODUCTION

The Intrastate Mutual Aid Program (“IMAP” or “Program”) was created by the NYS Legislature on July 1, 2010 and can be found in the Executive Law § 29-h. It provides for mutual assistance among the participating local governments in the prevention of, response to, and recovery from, any disaster that results in a formal declaration of an emergency by a participating local government. The Program also provides for mutual cooperation among participating local governments in conducting disaster-related drills, exercises, or other training activities outside actual declared emergency periods. IMAP complies with requirements of the National Incident Management System (“NIMS”)/Incident Command System (“ICS”) and meets applicable eligibility conditions for reimbursement under a federally-declared disaster.

Although the Program is designed for use during declared emergencies and exercises, local governments are encouraged, to the degree possible and extent practical, to apply the policies, procedures and guidelines associated with IMAP to their day-to-day operations. It is expected that local governments and public safety entities have already incorporated the NIMS/ICS into their daily response activities.

Historically, local governments have been required to enter into formal written agreements to carry out mutual aid activities. In those cases, the timely delivery of assistance is hampered by the necessity of obtaining local legislative or governing body approval prior to the providing or receiving assistance. Executive Law § 29-h authorizes local governments to provide and/or receive timely mutual aid without the need for local legislative or governing body approval. Local governments are deemed to be participants in IMAP.

The purpose of this document is to explain how the Program works and to establish uniform policies, procedures, and guidelines that are to be followed when requesting and providing assistance under the IMAP. The advantage of using the IMAP system is to avoid the need to enter into multiple inter-municipal MOUs or mutual aid agreements which may have differing or conflicting terms. When requesting or providing assistance under the Program all the terms for liability, workers’ compensation, and reimbursement are already spelled out and known by all jurisdictions in advance. Additionally, IMAP provides a uniform, known and well defined request procedure that is the same for all participating local jurisdictions.

There are four key elements of the Program with which all local governments should be familiar. First, IMAP is an “opt-out” program. This means that all local governments are considered to be participating jurisdictions unless the local government takes formal action to withdraw from the Program. Specifically, the governing body of the local government must pass a resolution declaring that it elects not to participate in the Program. This resolution must be provided to the Division of Homeland Security and Emergency Services (“DHSES”) and the withdrawal will not be considered effective until it is received by DHSES. A local government that has exercised this option may at any time choose to participate by filing a resolution with DHSES indicating that it is opting back in to the Program. Participation will not be effective until the opt-in resolution is received by DHSES. Exec. Law § 29-h(4)(a) & (b)

INTRASTATE MUTUAL AID PROGRAM STANDARD OPERATING GUIDELINES

Second, IMAP is not meant to preclude local governments from entering into mutual aid agreements with each other with terms that supplement or differ from the terms of the statute or the IMAP Standard Operating Guidelines. Furthermore, IMAP does not affect other mutual aid programs or agreements that are already in place (e.g., existing mutual aid MOUs, the State Fire Mobilization and Mutual Aid Plan). Exec. Law § 29-h(4)(c) & (d)

Third, participation in the Program does not require any local government to provide assistance pursuant to an IMAP request. An assisting local government may withhold resources to the extent necessary to provide reasonable protection and services for its own jurisdiction. Thus, there is no disadvantage to remaining a participating jurisdiction.

Fourth, when requesting or providing assistance through the IMAP, local governments must follow the policies, procedures and guidelines developed by the IMAP Committee and spelled out in this SOG in order for the statutory provisions to apply.

Participating local governments will need to determine what local legislative or governing body approval, if any, will be necessary in order to fully participate in IMAP. Who within the local government has the legal authority to request assistance/ authorize providing assistance and effectively obligate funding for reimbursement to the assisting jurisdiction? These and other considerations will be addressed more fully in this SOG, however, local governments will need to be aware that they may need to evaluate their local laws and rules to ensure that actions taken to implement the IMAP are legal and appropriate.

Finally, IMAP is another tool available to local governments for the purposes of responding to a declared state of emergency. The IMAP request process is separate and distinct from the resource request process that goes through the county emergency operations center (EOC) and up to the state emergency operations center. IMAP is a local-to-local program which should be contemplated prior to seeking state assistance, especially during a small scale event. Although New York State Office of Emergency Management regional staff may be available to assist you with completing the forms or sending them to potential assisting jurisdictions, an IMAP request should not be made by sending a request directly to the state EOC.

I. Requesting Assistance

A request for assistance through IMAP may be made after the local chief executive of the requesting local government has declared a state of emergency pursuant to Executive Law § 24, or is for the purpose of conducting multi-jurisdictional or regional training, drills or exercises. Such request may be initiated only by the Authorized Representative from the Requesting local government. All requests for assistance shall be documented by promptly filing a Request Form with DHSES. The Request Form shall be signed by the Authorized Representatives of both the Requesting and Assisting local governments.

Mutual Aid requests that cross county jurisdictional lines may be facilitated through the DHSES Regional Director ("RD"). The RD may provide assistance to an RLG or ALG by facilitating communications and dissemination their request for mutual aid assistance and provide instruction as to the proper completion of Mutual Aid Resource Request Forms. The role of the RD is addressed in section V. of this document.

Mutual Aid requests for assistance that remain within the county's jurisdiction will be handled by the local Emergency Manager or the Authorized Representative. The local Emergency Manager will submit mutual aid request forms to the County Emergency Manager who will then submit a copy of the request to the RD for filing with the State. It will be the responsibility of the RD to, examine the forms for accuracy and completeness prior to entering them into the DHSES/OEM State Incident Management System ("SIMS").

II. Responsibilities of Participating Local Governments

Each participating jurisdiction should formulate internal procedural plans so that it may be prepared to request or provide mutual aid under IMAP. At a minimum, jurisdictions should consider internal procedures that address the following:

1. Identify and affirm the authority of local government emergency management officer (authorized representative) who can place requests for and commit/deploy assistance under IMAP.
2. Procedures for requesting and receiving assistance under IMAP;
3. Procedures for utilizing mutual aid resources to fill IMAP requests;
4. Familiarize personnel with IMAP request, provision, and reimbursement procedures;
5. Processes for utilizing mutual aid resources from assisting local governments;
6. Pre-identify and inventory current services, equipment, supplies, personnel, and other resources related to the response and recovery activities of the local jurisdiction;
7. Pre-deployment briefing processes for personnel assigned to IMAP missions in another jurisdiction; and
6. Processes for requesting and receiving assistance under IMAP for the purpose of conducting multi-jurisdictional or regional training, drills or exercises.
7. Develop plan for receiving assistance, to include lists of potential staging areas and points of contact.

1. Upon receipt of request, review and confirm the availability of the resources being requested and intended purpose (actual event or training/drill/exercise);
2. Notify the RLG via phone, email, fax or personal communication, whichever is deemed most practical given the constraints of the emergency, that ALG has the requested resources and is able to provide the requested assistance;
3. Submit to DHSES (OEM Regional Director), through the ALG County EM, all inventories of resources being deployed, within three calendar days of the deployment of such resources. Submit within 60 calendar days a detailed invoice reflecting the quantities and types of all assets supplied during the entire mission by the ALG to the RLG. (Regardless of whether the ALG seeks reimbursement). The invoice shall be sent to the RLG identified financial point of contact with a copy to the NYS OEM Regional Director (through the ALG County EM).

*LIMITATIONS:
